Second vote allows second chance for Schwab School in Weatherly

by Donnell Stump

The Weatherly Borough Council Conference room was standing room only on Monday, May 16, as dozens of Weatherly residents and alumnae of the Weatherly High School came out to learn if there was a chance to save the Mrs. CM Schwab school.

The building, built and dedicated to the community in 1901 as a school, having been paid for and commissioned by Charles Schwab in honor of his wife Eurana Dinkey Schwab, ceased being used as a school when the newer Weatherly Area High School was opened in 1991. At that time, an opportunity for Weatherly Borough to assume control of the Spring Street structure was turned down. A few years later, a Virginia man bought the building for $40,000 from the Weatherly Area School District. He never used the building for anything, attempting from time to time to market it as a mansion, and it fell into disrepair.

ALL EYES WERE ON COUNCIL, above, as the votes were taken. At left, Phil Jeffries talks about the first time the borough was offered the building.

JH: Ruth Isenberg

Recently, a Texas bank took ownership of the century-old structure and has it offered for sale at a price of $229,000. After taking possession of the vacant building, they had some clean-up work done on the property to secure it from additional neglect. Through the initial efforts of Weatherly Mayor Tom Connors, the bank appears willing to negotiate the sale of the building at a reduced cost for public use.

Connors polled the overflow crowd as to whether they were in favor of saving the building, or against such an effort. Only a few of the overflow crowd indicated they were against the idea.

Second chances

by Ruth Isenberg

You don't always get a second chance. Weatherly almost didn't get a second chance to correct the mistake that was made 25 years ago, when borough council turned down the gift of the Schwab School to the community. History almost repeated itself on Monday night.

It didn't, for several reasons. People with a passion came out, and spoke out. They showed how committed they were, and they convinced some of the doubters to give them a chance.

Some of the council members were already on board. They moved the project along, proposing that the borough accept the building as long as the money to purchase it is raised by volunteers and doesn't come from taxes. They deserve credit for their vision.

Other elected officials were wary. They feared other costs that could come with the building. They were right to express those fears, and right to have them. The Save Our School group needs to address those fears, and come up with a plan.

The officials who listened, and considered, and changed their minds, deserve thanks and appreciation. They are the reason there is a second chance. Now everyone needs to work together. This school was a gift, and it can keep on giving to the community. This second chance should not go to waste.

The U.S. Post Office's Lehigh Valley section named White Haven's Charles Weaver their Driver of the Quarter. He has driven a 65-mile route for 18 years as the regular carrier, and before that, 9 years as a substitute, going 277,931 miles without an accident. White Haven Postmaster Harold Rohde submitted the nomination, noting Weaver's excellent work habits, and many compliments from his customers. There is a photo of Weaver, Rohde, and Robert Martin, who came from the Lehigh Valley Sectional Center to present the award—a plaque and a belt buckle. Weaver also was given a dinner for two at the Holiday Inn Pocono.

The Irish Cultural Society will host an Irish Festival at Jack Frost Mountain on Memorial Day weekend. There will be music by Mary Connolly and the Blaney Boys, the Irish Balladeers, Irish Tradewinds, Al Logan, Dermot O'Brian, the Irish Lads, Dermot Henry, the Irish Express and Pat Roper, plus bagpipers, step dancers, and Ceili dancers. Mass will be at noon on Sunday. Admission is $4 for adults, with children under 12 free.

White Haven Mayor Electra O'Donnell resigned after 17 months. Council member John Topito then resigned from council and was voted in as mayor on a vote of 4-1, Margaret Reilly opposed. Topito will serve until the end of the year. He will need to be elected in the fall to fill out the rest of the term, to 1989.

Louise Phipps was the top vote getter in the primary for reelection to the Crestwood School Board.

Walter Lynch edged out his challenger for Foster Township supervisor (Joseph Jacobs) by 11 votes.

Dean DeLong and Tom C. Gerhard will be the Republican nominees for Carbon County commissioners.

John M. Chernansky, a 1985 graduate of Weatherly Area High School, has been promoted to Marine Lance Corporal while serving at the Marine Air Ground Combat Center in TwentyNine Palms, CA.

Megan Maier of White Haven recently attended Space Camp in Huntsville, Alabama. She went through training activities leading to a simulated mission. The weeklong program is for children ages 11 to 13.

The Lions Club Variety-Talent Show scheduled for May 22 at the high school gym has been moved to Friday, May 4.

On the front page is a photo of pen pals Monica Cunliffe of London, England, and Donna Lynn Hinkle of R1, Weatherly. Cunliffe was touring the U.S. with co-workers from the British Broadcasting service, and came to visit Hinkle. The pair are show with two of Hinkle's horses.

Another photo on the front page is of 10 year-old Lynn Faust, who won three swimming medals at a YMCA meet in Somerville, NJ. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burdell Faust, of Weatherly.

Schwab School...

Councilman Joe Cyburt got things started. "I think it's a shame we left the building out of our hands 25 years ago. I think this is the right thing to do."

Connors continued, saying he wanted to make it clear that the borough would not be buying the building. The vote would be for the borough to accept the building, if a community group were to purchase it.

Councilman Norm Richie indicated he was in favor of renovating and expressed how glad he was that people are interested in doing this, but he stopped short of agreeing that the borough should take over the property once it is purchased. Among his concerns were what to do about, and how to pay for, weatherproofing, asbestos removal, and bringing the building up to code.

Bette Rambaran noted that 25 years ago a grassroots group was formed in Weatherly to rescue the portrait of Mrs. Schwab that had hung in the lobby of the old building. That effort was successful in raising sufficient funds to have the painting restored and relocated to the high school on Sixth Street. She told council and the audience that group is now the Weatherly Area High School Alumni Association that annually awards more than $15,000 in scholarship money to graduating seniors. She agreed with Connors that a positive outcome for the Schwab school property will have a positive influence on property values throughout the borough.

Councilwoman Cecelia Gower wanted to know who will take care of problems that come up after the purchase, who will pay for a new roof; demolition; other repairs?

Petrina Graaf replied, "We just want a chance to try."

Charles Palermo said that the fundraising can continue after the initial purchase.

Richie offered the opinion that he'd be willing to agree to take over the building if council knew in advance how much it would cost to secure the building.

Councilman Harold Farrow, participating in the meeting by phone, made a motion to take over the building if the funds to purchase it can be secured. Farrow got support for his motion from Connors and Cyburt; Gower and Richie were joined in voting no by Joe D'Andrea and George Miller.

An outcry of "Why?" was heard as many in the room seemed stunned by the vote.

Many of the audience members expressed a lack of support for the council members who voted no, including calls that they be unseated from council in the next election.

Attorney Laura Bonin Walters and Mike Malinics both commented on the historic structure and the possibility that funds for the purchase and restoration could come from sources outside the community, as there are groups and individuals around the globe interested in historic preservation and re-use of aged structures. Rotary Club Treasurer Dan Dargay, who was instrumental in the Rotary Foundation's efforts to purchase the old Steel Plant, reported that while much of the funding came from grants, significant portions of the funds raised were secured from donations and fundraising.

Councilman Richie called for council to reconsider, saying "after hearing how the people felt, I want to reconsider." He made a motion to accept the building, should the funds be raised by the citizens' group.

Farrow had hung up after the first vote, since he was working, and had to be contacted again so that his vote could be recorded. The resulting vote changed the directive of council, with Miller, D'Andrea, Richie, Cyburt and Connors voting in favor along with Cyburt and Connors and Gower remaining opposed.

Many in attendance said they were ready and willing to serve on a committee to get this renewed project to "Save Our School" moving forward.

Status of fire service questioned at Packer

by Stephanie Grega

At the April 5 Packer Township Supervisors' meeting, resident John S. Floyd Jr. questioned the status of fire service in the township. He spoke about ways to lower the rating, and said that the township has a rating of 8. Supervisors responded, saying they are currently trying to reduce the rating to a 3 or 4. They also stated that dry hydrants are installed.

Floyd inquired as to whether supervisors are contacted by Citizens Fire Company when there is an incident. They are not contacted when there is a fire within the township, but are contacted for things such as a township road closure.

Supervisors accepted a one year agreement with the Borough of Weatherly for fire coverage.

Resident Dan Dargay announced he had a paint ball shot at his house on the day of the April meeting. He provided a description of the incident and contacted the State Police regarding the matter.

Supervisors ask anyone who has information regarding vandalism to report it.

Veterans Corner

by John Kearns

Will the president apologize for what America did 71 years ago? Barack Obama will become the first sitting U.S. President to visit Hiroshima since WWII ended in 1945. In the predictable party division, the liberal left is hoping and anticipating he will apologize for the use of atomic bombs to end the war, much as he apologizes to radical Islamic jihadis for us defending ourselves against their war of terror against America. On the other hand, the conservative right says NO, Do Not Apologize. I tend to stay with the conservative side of this argument.

There is quantity of the deep emotion this subject still stirs that that will remain controversial and keep divided opinions. As the truths have been stripped from the history books so as not to hurt anyone's feelings, a look into the decision is in order.

It is granted the use of a nuclear weapon is a terrible thing, but so is the use of a human mind to purposely inflict unimaginable cruelty on defenseless civilians and captured American POW's. I think it is absurd to second guess the long-ago president and military commanders who felt the bombs might avert the need to invade the Japanese mainland islands at a cost of a million young American lives. Remember that the Japanese, intoxicated by the "Bushido" warrior code under which to surrender indicates shame and dishonor, had refused to surrender. This same code was applied to American, British and Chinese prisoners who did surrender, they would endure shame and dishonor at the hands of the brutal Japanese captors. In focusing on that, there is a more primal reason the answer to the question must be "no." Any other answer would defame Americans who endured unimaginable brutality at Japanese hands.

Our politically correct society is quick to show images of the results of the atomic weapons on Nagasaki and Hiroshima - the burned people, the little children and leveled homes. But what about the images they also have access to? Why do they pick and choose only the ones that make our nation look bad and cruel?

I took time to look at many of the photos and space prohibits printing them. So I will focus on a few contained in the same record as the "Bad Americans File." How about an American B-29 crew from Cincinnati who was beaten, stoned, starved, stripped naked and displayed in a cage at the Tokyo Zoo before being beheaded in public? There also are thousands of American soldiers whose sleep was forever debauched with nightmares of the twitching, headless corpses of the hundreds of American prisoners that the Japanese used for Samurai Sword practice in the Bataan death march.

Another are the 500 American prisoners in the hold of a Japanese freighter where the heat topped 120 degrees and there was barely any water. These men suffered the effects of intense heat and thirst, where prolonged heat strokes turned them to gibbering, howling fits of madness. This prompted a Japanese threat to close off the hatch through which their meager air came if there was not silence, and they did. The maddened men could not be reasoned with, so out of their minds and brain damaged from excessive heat, American men killed American men. Should America apologize? No, this was war, a fight for survival against a ruthless aggressor nation.

Japan committed unspeakable atrocities so America did the same. Such is the nature of war. Seven decades later to apologize displays feebleness... a happy-face Band-Aid that denies the awful truth and enormity of it all.

Again our nation decides to hide the historical truth. Denying the next generation the real world truths that would keep them prepared for a future of uncertainty cannot help or protect them.

In closing, again with the second amendment rights. Hitler, Tojo and the rest knew they could never invade America like they swept through so many defenseless unarmed nations. Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto was believed to say at a military conference: I lived and studied in America, they are a proud and just people. But if we invade, we will be faced with an armed citizen soldier behind every tree and blade of grass, every rooftop and every window, victory is not possible.

In 1790, the House Militia Bill stated: Every citizen is our militia. Conceived to be the privilege of every citizen, and one of his most essential rights, to bear arms, and to resist every attack upon his liberty or property, by whomsoever made. The particular states, like private citizens, have a right to be armed, and to defend, by force of arms, their rights to freedom, when invaded. A nation armed is a nation of citizens, an unarmed nation is one of subjects.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

The White Haven Area Community Library would like to thank the many businesses and individuals who made our recent “Hops & Grapes” beer, wine and food tasting festival such an enjoyable afternoon for those attending and a successful fundraiser for our all-volunteer independent library.

A variety of craft beers were generously provided by Nimble Hill Brewing Company, Northeast Eagle Distributors, Resort Beverage Company, and Susquehanna Brewing Company. The wide selection of wine was provided by Nimble Hill Vineyard and Winery and Stonekeep Meadery.

Delicious food was provided by Antonio’s Pizza, Brass

Buckle Restaurant, Buckaroo’s Pizza and Snack Shack, Edible Arrangements, Jack’s Grille at the Mountain Laurel Golf Course, Jireh’s Pizzeria and Restaurant, St. Patrick’s Parish Hall Catering, and White Haven Subway.

A raffle consisted of great prizes generously donated by Harmony Beverage, Jimbo’s Freeland Party Beverage, Northeast Eagle Distributors, and Friends of the Library.

We also want to thank the many volunteers who donated their time, homemade food, and other valuable contributions too numerous to list.

The White Haven Area Community Library, established in 1997, found its permanent home in the beautifully restored historic railroad Engine House at 99 Towanda Street almost three years ago.

Our non-profit library receives no federal or state funding, and is reliant on fundraising, grants and gifts to support our mission of providing facilities, resources and programs to benefit citizens of all ages in our community.

Again, our most sincere thanks to everyone who helped and who attended the Hops & Grapes 2016 Fest, and we look forward to seeing everyone again next year.

Fire fighters continue training

Members of the White Haven Volunteer Fire Company #1 have recently completed training in Hazardous Material Awareness and Hazardous Material Operations. These subjects are important, because hazardous materials pass through, over, under and around our area every day. For example, via I-80, PA Turnpike, railroad companies, gas pipelines and even airplanes. Plus we have gasoline storage areas and propane facilities. It's a good idea to know about them and how to react to emergencies involving them.

Fire company members also recently completed training for Emergency Vehicle Operator certification.

The company once again thanks the public for the support that enables its members to attend these training sessions, and become more proficient at providing protection. White Haven Fire Company is celebrating 100 years of saving lives and property – that's what we do!

Khatiwala named WAHSAA Scholarship winner

The Weatherly Area High School Alumni Association recently announced the 2016 WAHSAA Scholarship recipient. Muskan Khatiwala, daughter of Divyang & Bela Khatiwala, White Haven has been awarded the $15,000 scholarship from her graduating class.

The Scholarship Fund has been established in the name of the Weatherly Area High School Alumni Association. The Scholarship Committee of that Association devised the guidelines and plan of operation contained herein. The wealth of the fund has been built over the years by contributions and donations made by people and organizations interested in education. This money has been invested in various instruments which make up the Principal of the Fund.

The Association desires that the investment interest from the Fund be used only to provide scholarships to WASH students who graduate from WAHS or the Carbon County Vocational Technical School. The scholarship is to be used for extended education at an institution of higher education or a more specialized institution of learning, which shall be approved by the Scholarship Program Committee.

The scholarship was established in 1998, and the following have received this award:

Mothers' Day Tea

Story and photos by Stephanie Grega

Moms are important in countless ways, and Heritage Hill Senior Living Community of Weatherly celebrated Mothers' Day with the annual Mothers' Day Spring Tea.

Participants enjoyed having tea and other treats in a festively decorated dining room while listening to live entertainment by local musician Paul Romero.

"We are honoring mothers on this day. Mother's Day is important, and it is nice to honor the women in our lives that mean so much," said Activity Director Debra Hauze.

Juliet Altenburg attended the event with her mother, Margaret Geiger. Juliet said her mother is her ultimate role model, and inspired her to become a nurse. "My mother has been a hospital volunteer and she encouraged me to be also a volunteer in a hospital which led me into my own nursing career. It's great to celebrate Mothers' Day with my mother, who is my role model. I am where I am today because of my mother," she shared.

Moms love unconditionally- a quality Mary Bickart described when talking about her mother, Philomena Kuchar. "I think mom is important because she would do anything for me or anyone of her children and always believes the best about all of us. There isn't anything that anyone of us could do that would make her stop loving us," said Mary.

Springtime?

Saturday Ruth and I had gone to enjoy Knoebels from just after opening until late afternoon, trying to plan to leave ahead of the predicted rain. Instead the rain came early, so we chose as many covered rides and ducked in under cover when the rain got a little heavy. We even tried the antique car ride, it having a cover and a covered line, the cars having covers and the line being under cover. If our memories serve, this was the first time we'd ever taken the ride.

A highlight of our day, and also a chance to get dry, was a children's magic show by Tony Klusmeyer. Tony will be back to Knoebels performing on several weekends this season.

We ended our park day with a chilly skyride where we could see the next set of rainstorms coming. Knoebels is not fully leafed out yet, but should be in full green as they start daily operations just before Memorial Day. We plan to be back for more fun in a few weekends.

Sunday's weather was supposed to be partly cloudy and near 60°, but as we drove into the Poconos, we were greeted with sleet. At one of our stops, we were inside and could see it snowing outside. Oddly, as we arrived at Brady's Lake to take Chess for a walk and a swim, the sun came out. While it was windy at the lake, and thus somewhat cold, the sun made things bearable. Chess took great pleasure in swimming/stick retrieving, then we all enjoyed a relatively short hike, sighting blue jays and dodging goose and bear spoor. We ended with a little more stick retrieving in the lake, and then walked with her to get her somewhat dry just as another set of clouds rolled in. By the time we were ready to leave, it had begun to snow again.

We were at the Mohegan Sun Arena to watch the WBS Penguins put on a hockey show to beat the Hershey Bears on Friday. It was fun, it was loud, and it turned out to be the last home game of the season. The Penguins-Bears game 7 Sunday evening in Hershey was either win or go home. Our team battled all night to keep things tied through regulation, but gave up a goal after five minutes of overtime. So hockey season is over locally. We'll see who returns to play in Wilkes-Barre in September. What remains is to cheer for the NHL's Pittsburgh Penguins, who have some WBS players on their roster, as they look to reach the Stanley Cup finals. We also will watch the ECHL's Wheeling Nailers (Penguins) as they compete for the Kelly Cup. We saw some of their players cycle through this season. We listened to the play call on the internet as they beat the South Carolina Stingrays last week, tying their best-of-seven series up at 1 apiece.

A business associate has given us some tickets to the SWB RailRiders. We will sit in those stands when nighttime temperatures are 70° or higher.

The chilly weather on Sunday kept the turnout low at Dover for their NASCAR race. Long-range predictions for race weekend at Pocono June 3-5 are temperatures in the 70s and dry. Get your tickets now.

This Saturday we're blessed with a lot of entertainment choices. Mauch Chunk Opera House is hosting the Olate Dogs for an afternoon show that could be lots of fun.

I'm not seeing many apple blossoms on my five trees. I'm guessing there'll be precious few apples this year, even as last year was their most productive year ever.

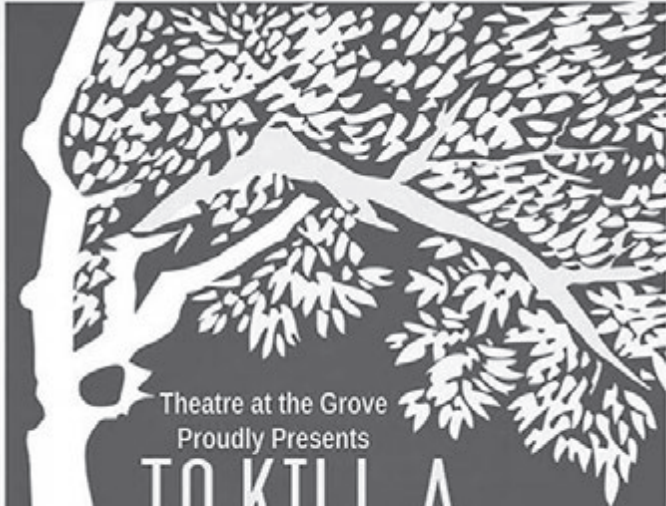

With the dry spell earlier dried out the woods hereabouts, so some fires got started towards Mountain Top. For a couple of days, there was a smoky haze over downtown White Haven. On Friday when we drove to the Mohegan Sun Arena for the Penguins game, we could see a large forest fire burning in the hills northwest of Scranton. Fire teams, plus the rains of Saturday, put that one out along with the rest, and reduced the fire danger all around us.

Fabulous Greaseband at Marian

Marian High School is sponsoring a dance, which will be held at campus on May 21. "The Fabulous Greaseband" will be performing from 7:30 – 10:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Weatherly Area in midst of historic track season

It's been an historic season for the track and field program at Weatherly Area High School this spring. In the past, the Wreckers have only sent one boy and one girl to the District 11 Track and Field Championships. This year, the Wreckers sent nine girls and five boys to the two-day championships, which were held Tuesday and Wednesday at Whitehall High School.

What makes this that much more amazing is Weatherly does not have a track on which to train, and is not even recognized as a team by the Schuylkill League. The Wreckers compete as an exhibition school for individual times and distances, usually running alongside Mahanoy Area at dual meets and in various invitations. This year those invites included ones in Jim Thorpe, Tamqua and Pine Grove.

Headlining the list of athletes who were to compete at districts are senior Jared Hinkle and freshman Emily Zoscin, both first-time runners in the sport. Last week Hinkle became the Wreckers' first-ever medalist at the Schuylkill League championships, placing third in the 1600-meter run and setting a new school record in the event (4:42.90). Hinkle actually qualified for districts in five individual events (100, 200, 400, 800, 1600), but will narrow that

by Steve Stallone, Sports Editor

to just the 800 and 1600 at districts. He'll also be on the Wreckers' 1600 and 3200 relay teams. Zoscin has qualified and was scheduled to participate in the 100, 200 and 400-meter dashes. She was seeded seventh out of 24 runners in the 100 meters. She will also be on the Lady Wreckers' 1600 relay team.

Senior Shelby Berger, a first-year track participant as well, qualified in the 400-meter run, and is also part of the 1600 relay team along with Zoscin, Nicole Gordon and Kolbrun Magnusdotir, the school's exchange student from Iceland.

Freshman Abigail Hernandez qualified for the 800-meter run, becoming the first Weatherly Area girl to qualify for this event.

Senior Trent Dempsey qualified for a pair of individual events, the 1600 and 3200. He is also on the 1600 and 3200 relay teams, and is the first Weatherly Area athlete to qualify for districts in the 3200.

Traig Dempsey was to compete in the 400, another first for a Wrecker runner, and is on the 1600 relay.

Joel Hinkle and Paul Eckert each qualified for the 800, and along with Jared Hinkle are the first Weatherly Area runners to qualify for this event. Joel and Paul along with Jared Hinkle and Trent Dempsey make up the 3200 relay team. Eckert is on the 1600 relay.

Tina Caravella, Kim Carter, Kim Harrison and Megan Peiffer are on the girls 3200 relay team.

Jonathan Kiddish is the Wreckers' head coach.

District champions and those athletes who reach qualifying times set forth by the PIAA will advance to the state championships May 27-28 in Shippensburg. We'll keep tabs on how the Wreckers fare at districts, and report back next week.

WOTHERSPOON SENT BACK TO TRENTON - Despite a very productive week with the RailRiders, Matt Wotherspoon was sent back down to Class AA Trenton following last Thursday's game. The Crestwood High School graduate threw four scoreless innings over two games with the Yankees' Triple-A club, allowing three hits and striking out four batters. At that point, his combined statistics in Trenton and Wilkes-Barre/Scranton this season featured 27 strikeouts and just seven walks in 23 innings, with a win, a save and a scant 0.78 ERA. If those numbers continue, he'll surely get another call-up before the season ends.

Trenton experimented with the reliever on Sunday, throwing him into a starting role for the first time against Reading. The results weren't ideal, as Wotherspoon lasted three innings, allowing six runs and five hits in a 7-2 loss.

Comet teams gearing up for playoffs

Crestwood Sports Roundup

Crestwood's boys and girls lacrosse teams, as well as the boys volleyball team, will be in action this week as the district playoffs get under way for those respective sports.

Volleyball

The Crestwood boys (7-5) will go up against No. 2 seed Abington Heights (12-0) on Wednesday in the District 2-11 Class AA sub-regional quarterfinals at Clarks Summit Elementary School. Western Wayne (8-4) and Nanticoke (11-1) will play in the first match of the double-header that day. The top seed in the tournament is Wyoming Valley Conference champion Holy Redeemer (12-0).

Semifinals are slated for May 24, with the finals and third-place match set for May 26. The top four teams in Class AA advance to the state tournament.

Boys Lacrosse

The defending champion

Crestwood Comets (7-3) were scheduled to open the District 2 tournament on Tuesday of this week, hosting Tunkhannock (3-7). The quarterfinal winners are scheduled to play May 23, and the finals will be held May 26. Delaware Valley (9-0) and Scranton Prep (8-2), the division champions in the Wyoming Valley Conference, earned the top two seeds for the tournament.

Girls Lacrosse

The Crestwood girls (6-7) were to host Hazleton Area in a play-in game Monday to determine the sixth seed for the District 2 tournament. The winner is scheduled to face #3 seed Coughlin (11-2) in the quarterfinal round on Thursday at 4:15 p.m. Wyoming Seminary (13-0) is the top seed for the tournament and Lake-Lehman (11-2) is seeded second. Semifinals are slated for May 24 and the final on May 27.

Wrecker nine captures season finale

The Weatherly Area baseball team finished its season on a strong note last week, clubbing visiting Salem Christian 16-1 in a game shortened to three innings by the 15-run rule. Weatherly broke the game open with a seven-run second inning, and finished it off with a six-run third.

A.J. Knepper led the Wreckers' 15-hit assault with a triple and single, Dillon Bizarre collected three singles and Jeremy Moser had a home run. In addition, Luke Figas cracked a triple, Nick Wolf singled twice, and Gary Buck, Lou Mastroddi, Steph Yurchak, Keith Cullen and Kyle Osifat each had a single.

Weatherly Varsity Roundup

Winning pitcher Al Kalinowski tossed a one-hitter, struck out three and walked one his three innings of work.

Williams Valley 14, Weatherly Area 2 - Dawson Maurer drove in three runs as the Vikings snapped their eight-game slide and rolled to the Schuylkill League Division II-III crossover win last week. Dylan Rebuck had a pair of hits and Jason Chamberlain scored three runs in a game shortened to five innings by the 10-run rule. Devon Joseph earned the complete-game pitching victory, scattering seven hits, walking three and striking out three.

Gary Buck, the first of three Weatherly pitchers, sustained the loss.

Softball

Weatherly Area 14, Panther Valley 11 - Weatherly scored eight times in the third inning and built a 10-0 lead before surviving Panther Valley's late rally for a 14-11 non-league win last week. Katie Graham singled twice and scored two runs for the Lady Wreckers. Morgan Gower and Sam Kane each singled and drove in two runs, Gower scored three times, and Kane got the pitching win with last-inning relief help from Molly Isom.

Cassidy Ryan had two hits including a triple and Hannah Hill also tripled for Panther Valley.

Mahanoy Area 4, Weatherly Area 0 - Emily Bruce outlasted Sam Kane in a pitcher's duel, and division champion Mahanoy Area slipped past the Lady Wreckers in a Division III game played in Mahanoy City. Bruce limited the Lady Wreckers to three hits and struck out eight, and received offensive support from sister Hanna Bruce, who stroked a double and single. Megan Bisco also singled for the Golden Bears. Mahanoy Area scored twice in the bottom of the second and two more times in the fourth to take control.

Kane was strong in the circle as well, fanning eight and also hurling a three-hitter. Kane and teammates Samantha Knepper and Katie Graham all had base hits.

Jim Thorpe 11, Weatherly Area 0 - Maggie Holloway hurled a no-hitter, striking out 10 batters as Jim Thorpe notched the 11-0 non-league softball victory last week. Lauren Donati and Leah Detweiler each had two hits for the Olympians, who scored five runs in the second and six more in the fourth. The game ended after five due to the 10-run rule. Molly Isom pitched for Weatherly (5-12).

Track and Field

Weatherly Area senior Jared Hinkle earned a third-place finish in the 1600-meter run at the Schuylkill League Track and Field Championships last week at Mahanoy Area High School. Hinkle, in his first season of track, clocked a time of 4:42.90 in the race. Jim Thorpe's Dylan Bucior won the race in 4:29.94.

Hinkle will be among the Wreckers scheduled to be competing in the District 11 Class 2A Track and Field Championships this week at Whitehall High School, looking for a district medal and a possible berth in the state championships. Details will appear in next week's edition.

White Haven has wild start to Jr. Babe Ruth season

The White Haven Junior Babe Ruth team had a wild opening to its Valley Babe Ruth season Saturday at Lehigh Park. The locals fell behind 7-0 early on, rallied to go in front, then finished tied with Service Electric of Conyngham 9-9 when play was suspended after six innings due to darkness. The game will be completed June 1 when the two teams are scheduled to meet again at Whispering Willows Park in Conyngham.

Service Electric took advantage of two walks, a hit batter and a bases-clearing double by Dan Podlesny to take a 7-0 lead in the second inning. But White Haven would soon warm up, plating a run in the bottom of the second, another in the third, and erupting for a seven-run inning of its own in the fifth to surge into the lead.

Putting together four hits, including an RBI-single by Cody Schade and a bases-clearing double by Dylan Horn, the Aces moved in front 9-8 in the fifth. Service Electric scored on a passed ball in the top of the sixth to knot the game at 9-9, and that's where it stood when darkness came in the home sixth.

David Stratchko pitched the first five innings for White Haven, allowing just three hits while striking out seven and walking four. Matt Macurak took the mound from there, pitching one inning and allowing no hits, two walks and a run. He fanned two. Macurak, Horn and Nolan Stortz all doubled for the Aces, with Brian Keil, Stratchko, Schade and Hunter Greenberg contributing singles.

Weatherly 6, Drums 0 - Brandon Cann hurled a three-hit shutout as Weatherly opened its Junior Babe Ruth season with a win over visiting Drums. Cann struck out six, and got all the run support he would need when his team broke a scoreless tie with a six-run fifth inning. Steph Yurchak laced a double and Jeremy Moser singled for the winners.

Minor League

Citizens Fire Co. 1, Sons of Erin 0 - Kelly Reiner collected three singles to lead Weatherly Citizens Fire Co. to the win over Freeland Sons of Erin in an Interleague game last week. Stephen Barnic singled and pitched a solid game, and Charles Grier also had a single for the Firemen. Brandon Blanyard had two singles for the Sons of Erin, Tyler Dias doubled and Chris Blanyard singled.

Little League

Freeland American Legion 11, White Haven Lions 3 - Gavin Perkosky had a home run, double and single, and Carsyn Chambers hit a double and two singles to power the Legion to the Interleague victory. Bruce Hopeck added two doubles. Donny Fanelli homered and singled for the Lions. Nate Stortz and Devin Fairchild both had a double, and Fairchild pitched well.

Crestwood's Klusewitz, Reyes earn bronze medals at district meet

by Steve Stallone
Sports Editor

Although the Crestwood boys and girls track teams didn't bring home a lot of hardware from Monday's District 2 Class 3A Track and Field Championships, they make their mark in the day long meet in Scranton. Jason Klusewitz and Idelys Reyes each earned bronze medals in their respective specialties, and Klusewitz was part of one of the day's most exciting races.

As nightfall was creeping in at Scranton Memorial Stadium, the top runners in the district took their spot the starting line for the much-anticipated boys 800-meter run. As they broke away, so too did Dallas' Jason Kulp, working his way to a large lead over the rest of the field.

"I was very confused," said Hazleton Area's Brendan Lohr, a returning state qualifier and defending silver medalist in the event. "I was waiting for him to step off the track. I thought he was a rabbit, I didn't know whether to go with him or try to run my own race. I ended up somewhere in the middle." Lohr finally did overtake him with a huge kick coming around the final turn of the final lap.

Scranton's Andrew Lopez came with him, and from there the two ran stride-for-stride down the front straightaway. Just behind them was the Comets' Klusewitz.

"We were neck and neck. He just out-kicked me," Lohr said on Lopez. "Once he got that half-step on me, he had me." Lopez (1:59.65) edged Lohr (2:00.10) at the line by .55 seconds, securing the gold and relegating him to the silver for a second straight season. Klusewitz (2:00.68) finished a half-second behind Lohr in third, giving ing the Crestwood boys their highest medal of the day.

Klusewitz also turned in a season-best jump of 41-8 3/4 to place fifth in the triple jump, giving him a second medal at the championships. Teammate Ian Malia placed seventh in the triple jump with a season-best leap of 40-6 1/4. Other solid finishers for the Crestwood boys included the 400-relay team in ninth place (46.36), the 3200-relay team in 12th (9:31.27), Dylan Perrone 13th in the 100 (11.89) and Clay Kimsal 16th in the 3200 (10:56).

The Lady Comets' Reyes led her team with a bronze medal in the 200-meter dash on Monday. Reyes, a senior, qualified fifth in the afternoon preliminaries with a 27.68. She came back in the evening finals to run a 27.21, giving her third place. Bree Bednarski of Wyoming Area took the gold in 26.13.

Crestwood junior Alyson Muse also earned a medal, placing sixth in the shot put with a throw of 31-6 1/2. The top six finishers earn a medal. Andrea Shipton was eighth in the pole vault

(9-0), Jen Katulka and Ashleigh Thomas were 10th and 11th, respectively, in the high jump, each clearing 4-9. Cara Jarmiolowski was 18th in the discus (85-10),

One girls record fell to Dallas senior Katie Kravitsky who leaped 5-7 to win the high jump and beat the record of 5-5 she had already shared with Brooke McMurray and Anna Nole.

On the boys' side, Matt Slagus of North Pocono set a new district record in the discus with a throw of 184-1, beating a 20 year-old record owned by Berwick's Barney Bowman (174-0) since 1996. In fact, Slagus had two throws of 184-1 on the day.
