Turning over a new leaf — by the hundreds

by Seth Isenberg

It's prime fall foliage season, so it's also the start of leaf raking season. My yard now features two prominent leaf piles from just three trees that have released their former greenery onto the grass. I will collect most of these, then wait for the deluge of maple leaves and also for my apple trees to let go.

The warm weather this week has slowed everything down, though temperatures drop back to normal starting this weekend. With the cold nights will come a shower of falling leaves.

This is one of my favorite things about living in our area—the leaf show. The raking connects me with happy memories of doing the same as a kid and then as a teen at my parents' home. Now as an adult homeowner—and an adult tree owner—I have my own new leaves to rake and new memories to make.

Happy leaf raking season ...

Eckley Lantern Tours haunt the village October 21, 22, 28, 29

Eckley Miners' Village will host its annual Halloween event Fridays and Saturdays the rest of the month. This popular program has been a fixture of the Halloween scene for nearly 15 years and welcomed thousands of "after-hours" visitors.

"This is one of our most popular programs and one of the biggest fundraisers for Eckley," said site administrator Bode Morin. "This is one of the few activities we have in the evenings and as a remote historic site, Eckley offers the perfect backdrop for skits and frights."

Volunteer leaders will take groups of visitors to see up to 10 skits staged throughout the village. People can bring their own electric lanterns or buy them from the museum store.

"Unlike traditional haunted houses the tours at Eckley are family-friendly. There will be a hot-food vendor, the museum store will be open throughout the evening, and we have a host of new and exciting skits," Morin said.

Doors open at 6 each night. The first tour leaves at 6:30 and the last tour at 9.

Admission is $10 for adults and $5 for children 6-12. This is a night-time walking tour of approximately one mile on a gravel road surface.

China's Military Build-Up, at our Expense

China's economy is booming with an 8.4% growth in Gross Domestic Product (GDP). It has been increasing each year for the past 6 years. Compare that to our GDP at home that free fell in 2009 and now remains stagnant between 1.0 and 2.5%. Bottom line is we are going nowhere, we are building nothing, we are exporting nothing and our workers are earning less compared to nations we conduct open trade with. Call it bad trade deals, greedy politicians or whatever you will, the bottom line is no increasing good jobs, no increasing wages and no increasing wealth for the Government, just mounting out of control debt.

But the side of the coin I want to talk about is China. China has a fast growing economy and wealth, and as a result, ever increasing military build-up with the largest standing army in the world. By the end of 2016, their economy will overtake that of ours. They have growing tech, engineering and manufacturing skills, unlimited wealth and greatest source of people for military service on earth. If we convert the formula to force projection, it does not add up to self-defense.

The United States is known for some big items to defend our shores and our people. Our aircraft carriers that project power worldwide are a big deterrent of aggression. Our communications, computer technology and satellites provide instant worldwide command, control and advanced warnings. Let's look at what China is heavily investing all the money brought in from bad trade deals, currency manipulation and loss of our manufacturing, jobs and energy.

SUPER CARRIERS: The first Chinese-built super carriers will likely be operational sometime at the beginning of the next decade. China now has one operational carrier. The formation of carrier battle groups will enable them to conduct comprehensive sea control and power projection operations and enhance their long-range operational capabilities.

NUCLEAR SUBMARINES, next generation technology: The new 11,000-ton Jin-class Type 94 boomers have been under development by the People's Liberation Army Navy for the last decade. They are China's first real entry into the sea-based deterrent world. One is set to launch soon, two more are under construction.

SUPERSONIC CARRIER KILLER MISSILES: the new YJ-12 is the most dangerous anti-ship missile China has produced thus far. The arrival of the YJ-12 is a clear indication the U.S. Navy is falling further behind in the missile competition.

SATELLITE KILLER MISSILES: During October 2015, the Chinese fired off a rocket that could turn a satellite into scraps, the HQ-19 ASAT.

To be able project power or invasion forces, a nation needs ships and aircraft. China is adding three new amphibious assault troop landings ships to the formidable force they already have. A fleet of new heavy lift military transport aircraft to rapidly move troops and supplies world-wide is being developed with new design and technology.

China's military dedicated computer hacking unit (Unit 61398) is believed to be staffed by thousands of Chinese "cyber-troops". Its personnel are highly trained in computer networking but must also be proficient in English as most of its targets are in the U.S.

With all this going on, Chinese people have plenty of jobs and work with all the manufacturing, steel production plus added military and defense contracts. China's intent does not look to be building up defense, it looks like expansion - expansion into the world as a super power with the USA in its sights.

Now add that they want to pass the Trans Pacific Trade Deal sending more work abroad to strengthen those who will oppose us just doesn't sound very smart or promising for "we the people" at home here. A few get richer while millions get poorer. Our adversaries get stronger and we get weaker. Open trade with bad deals, globalization, open borders with unchecked immigration, refugees, drugs and dangerous materials and weapons all flooding in, the United States of America we all know, some fought for and many died for will be unrecognizable in another ten years if something does not change.

Senator Yudichak Participates in Pinchot State Forest District dedication

State Sen. John Yudichak (D-Luzerne/Carbon) joined Department of Conservation and Natural Resources Secretary Cindy Adams Dunn, and Bureau of Forestry officials in formally dedicating the Pinchot State Forest District, renamed in honor of Governor Gifford Pinchot, a conservation pioneer who helped build both the U.S. and Pennsylvania state forest system.

Formerly known as Lackawanna State Forest District, the Pinchot State Forest District began in 1902 when 2,854 acres were purchased in Lackawanna County. In the past decade, the state forest district has grown to 46,278 acres in Luzerne, Lackawanna, Wyoming, Susquehanna and Wayne counties.

"We owe a great deal of gratitude to DCNR, the Bureau of Forestry, and the people of Northeastern Pennsylvania who fully accepted the responsibility of building a great future for Pennsylvania by continuing the enduring legacy of Gifford Pinchot with the conservation of some of our most pristine forest land that will forever bear a most appropriate name, the Pinchot State Forest District," said Senator Yudichak.

DCNR Secretary Dunn and State Forester Dan Devlin also touched on Pinchot's legacy in their remarks. "Pennsylvania is blessed with 20 state forest districts and this one -- bearing a new name in the northeast area of the state personifies Gifford Pinchot's crusade for healthy, sustainable woodlands, to be enjoyed and appreciated by all," Secretary Dunn said.

"The conservation legacy of Gifford Pinchot can't be overstated. He helped to shape forestry and land management practices at the national and state level. Naming this state forest district in his honor is a tribute to his lasting impact on conservation," Devlin said.

Winter Gardening Tips at the M.S. Kirby Library

Winter Interest in the Garden will be presented by Master Gardener Sandy Visintai at the Marian Sutherland Kirby Library on November 2 at 6:30 p.m.

Winters in the northeast are often long, cold, and snowy and many homeowners give little thought to this time of the year when designing their landscapes and gardens. Discover how a peaceful and beautiful winter landscape can be created and enjoyed from indoors during this quiet time of the year.

There are many wondrous and unique trees, shrubs, perennials, ornamental grasses and structures that provide visually arresting textures, colors, sound, and movement, making winter a season of natural beauty. With a little planning and time, the garden can become something that is pleasing to look at 365 days a year.

Sandy Visintai is a Penn State Luzerne County Master Gardener, Pennsylvania Certified Horticulturist, and president of the Hazleton Area Garden Club; with over 30 years' experience working at a family garden center and landscaping business.

Call 570-474-9313 to register or visit the library at 35 Kirby Ave., Mountaintop.

Following their mission of "Service to God and service to others" the White Haven United Methodist congregation has been preparing "flood buckets." These buckets of supplies will help people begin the overwhelming job of cleaning up after a flood or hurricane. The congregation purchased specific items such as detergents, sponges, gloves, clothesline, clothespins, bug spray, etc., which were then packed into 5-gallon buckets by the children and youth. UMCOR, the United Methodist Committee on Relief, will distribute these flood buckets to areas affected by disaster. If you or your organization would like to participate, contact the church for information at (570) 443-7153. Shown from left with some flood buckets are Ryan, Drew, and Zachary Sechleer, Lilly Newton, Evie Kropp, Jessica Maddock, Ben Kropp, and Abby Kaylor.

GH Concert Series presents the State Ensemble of Sakha

The Greater Hazleton Concert Series continues its 2016-2017 season with the Siberian Virtuosi, The State Ensemble of Sakha (Yakutia), Russia. The ensemble includes 11 young violinists, and a pianist, each a virtuoso in their own right, with a commanding stage presence, performing without the physical restrictions of the traditional seated ensemble. The Siberian Virtuosi will delight its audience at the Hazleton High School Auditorium, 1601 West 23rd Street, on Thursday, October 20.

The program has a virtuoso character that involves a wide range of violin repertoire. The musical education of the Ensemble members is based on traditional methods of violin training. That is why their repertoire highlights the classics from Bach and Vivaldi to Tchaikovsky and Khachaturian, music that is very familiar to audiences around the world. At the same time, the Ensemble doesn't limit itself to performing just the classical repertoire. They perform the contemporary music of Western and Russian composers, as well as special jazz and crossover arrangements written especially for them—giving the audience a complete musical experience.

While the Ensemble was founded in 1994, most of its performers are in their twenties. The Ensemble is known for its energy, unique arrangements, and level of the performers' virtuosity. Absolutely unique, this amazing group delights its audiences with their charisma and with their stellar performance of familiar works of so many of the great composers.

For reservations or concert information, call Amelia at 570-788-4864, or Cynthia at 570-436-6615. Find more information on all our concerts on The Greater Hazleton Concert Series' website at www.hazletonconcertseries.org or visit our Facebook page. # Seth's Sightings by Seth Isenberg

Sunday night this column was written in part by the light of the Super Moon. For the next few months, our moon will be at its closest point to the Earth so the full moons will look bigger, and moonlight will be brighter. (Not so bright as to reflect off this year's autumn foliage, except sometimes the bright yellows.)

It looks like we've reached our foliage peak hereabouts. There are a variety of beautiful rides in our area, Route 940 through Kidder and Tobyhanna Townships, for example, but there are spots already past like Interstate 80 in Tobyhanna Township in a few spots. It should be a great week for foliage.

At our house, our sumac tree has dropped nearly all of its leaves and most of its stems. Two cherry trees have also dropped much of their leaves. Our maples and apples are still holding strong, just now starting to turn color. Still, I was out raking my first leaf pile on Sunday, with expectations of lots more to come.

There are times when being a reporter and a volunteer clash. This past Thursday, on my plate was a service club meeting, a chamber of commerce meeting and one of my regular township meetings. I managed to fit in all three.

Friday I finished my newspaper round in time to make a dash to Harrisburg for a newspaper seminar. The trip encountered heavy traffic through a construction zone, guaranteeing I would not be on time. That cleared with the return of four-lane traffic, until another backup caused by PA State Police making an arrest of a driver by the side of the road. This jam was not too bad once drivers figured out where to go - into one lane. But it was another delay. I arrived just minutes before the event's start (at the same time as another participant). I learned a lot at the sessions, but being away usually means lack of sleep—I prefer my own bed.

Saturday, I traveled from Harrisburg back to the Weatherly Area Community Library's grand opening event, arriving well in time for the ribbon cutting. Foliage is not much yet south of us.

That evening, Ruth and I went out to the Fur Ball fundraiser for the Blakeslee dog park for a fun wrap-up to a busy day. I was glad to be home.

Sunday afternoon we were at the White Haven Halloween Parade, then went off to New Jersey to visit my uncle Slater. Coming back we tanked up, knowing that it was likely that with our next visit gas prices there would be much higher. On this trip, as compared to our usual, NJ was as much as 42¢ less per gallon. On November 1, New Jersey is putting its 23¢ gas tax increase into place.

Both of us are really unhappy about the tone of this year's presidential and senate elections. We approach these last couple of weeks with gritted teeth, because it's going to be ugly.

Penn State football made us happy with an exciting win, but Temple tops the locals with a 1 point-come-from-behind win on the road at Central Florida—a game Central Florida was picked to win. With the Pitt Panthers also winning, as of right now, all three Division 1A Pennsylvania football teams may become bowl eligible — as long as they win most of the rest of their games. In the NFL, the Patriots won again on Sunday behind Tom Brady, but the Eagles lost and the Steelers lost not only their game, but also Big Ben.

We missed the opening game of the season for the Wilkes-Barre Scranton Penguins, but sent friends who told us an exciting in for the home club. This coming Friday and Saturday, we plan to be in the stands to cheer the local Pens during their first big weekend at home this season.

We are seeing the end of the season for Knoebels and the PA Renaissance Faire — this weekend and next are it. Ruth and I will work to fit in a trip to both before Halloween.

This Sunday, October 23, I'm to be host on a Meet the Candidates Night in Weatherly. Featured are State Representative Doyle Heffley and his challenger Neil Makhija. The event is at Weatherworks' dining hall starting at 6 p.m.

Blass, Grigas lead Comets to second straight football win

Lance is back, and he's better than ever.

Riding the play of their senior leader in his final home game, the Crestwood Comets earned their second straight victory on Friday night. Lance Blass rushed 29 times for a career-high 325 yards and four touchdowns as the Comets held on to beat Hanover Area 28-20 and solidified their playoff chances in the process. But as good as Blass was, it took a huge stop by junior line-backer Owen Grigas to help the Comets keep the lead late in the game.

Hanover Area pulled within two points (22-20) on Christian Percy's 31-yard touchdown catch with just over two minutes to play. From there, the Hawkeyes went for two points and the tie.

Quarterback Brandon Chafin faked an inside handoff and tried to score on bootleg run, only to be greeted by Grigas, who smothered him and dropped him in the backfield. "That was the play we were expecting," Comets head coach Greg Myers said afterward. "We've seen that two-point play from them a couple times this season ... We drilled it all week, and obviously our kids listened to us, and they stepped up and made a heck of a play."

From there, Blass and the Comets worked the clock until the senior standout scored his fourth touchdown of the night - a 39-yard run with five seconds remaining - to lock up the Senior Night win. "In a game like this, he needs the ball in his hands," Myers said. "He certainly proved that. Especially when we got to use some clock, he's the guy we want with the ball in his hands."

Crestwood trailed 14-8 at halftime following a 64-yard scoring run by Hanover Area's Sean Coleman, but used Kevin Lusewitz's blocked field goal attempt to gain momentum in the third quarter. After the Comets took over, Kyle Richards converted a third-down pass to Blass to keep a drive alive, and Blass did the rest, breaking free for a 48-yard touchdown run that put the Comets back on top 15-14. With 4:29 to play in the fourth quarter, Blass' 21-yard scoring run made it a 22-14 lead, setting up the late-game flurry.

After missing three games due to injury, Blass returned in Week 7 and had a limited role in the Comets' 49-6 rout of Tunkhannock that snapped a five-game slide. In Week 8, Blass was near 100 percent for the first time since the early part of the season, and it showed. His 325 rushing yards nearly doubled his entire output (180 yards) this season, and gave the Comets (3-5) an all-important win as they hit the home stretch with road games at Wyoming Valley West and Hazleton Area. They are currently seventh in the eight-team District 2 Class 4A playoff race.

"That's emotional for everybody, all the seniors coming together," said Blass, who lauded the play of his offensive line in the win. "That's just a good way for me to go out on my own field."

The Comets finished with 384 of their 395 yards on the ground, with quarterback Chase Passman getting another 49 yards. Rushing leader Pat Rother carried just two times for 13 yards. Meanwhile, the defense held Hanover Area (4-4) to 247 total yards, and the Comets withstood a pair of turnovers to pocket the big win.

The Comets will visit Valley West on Friday night before closing at Hazleton Area in Week 10. A win in either game will likely lock up a playoff berth.

Scotty Zoscin sets another CC record, remains unbeaten

Another race, another record for Weatherly Area's Scotty Zoscin. Last week, the eighth-grade runner clocked a 10:34 to win the team's junior high cross country meet at Schuylkill Haven, as the Wreckers defeated both Haven (15-50) and Marian (15-50). Shenandoah Valley edged the Wreckers 23-32.

Zoscin's first-place run topped runner-up Diego Olayo (12:09) of Shenandoah Valley by more than a minute-and-a-half, and broke his own course record of 10:40 set earlier this season at the 'Canes Invitational. He has also set course records at Minersville and in Weatherly where he established the Wreckers' course and school record for 1.8 miles the week before. He has won all six league-meet races and all four invitationals he has run in this season.

Shenandoah Valley took places 2-5 to earn the team win over Weatherly Area's boys. Educ Zamudio (12:18), Bobby Boris (12:36) and Ivan Monjarez (12:40) followed Olayo across the finish line. Connor Stasulli (13:09) was ninth to round out the Blue Devils' scoring.

Antonio Colecio (12:44) finished sixth, Frank Willis (12:49) was seventh and Brady Walters (12:58) was eighth for the Wreckers. Trevor Lohman (13:26) came in 10th.

Schuylkill Haven's Marissa Fridirici won the girls race in 12:46. Joelvi Nunez paced Shenandoah Valley (12:57) in second, and teammate Brittany Kozlosky (14:48) was third. Elizabeth Marshman paced the Lady Wreckers with a fifth-place run in 15:20.

Weatherly Area was to compete in the Schuylkill League Cross Country Championships this Wednesday afternoon at Tuscarora State Park.
